

The Law Spin off of the University of Pisa

www.iurap.eu

Why a Law SPIN OFF?

- High quality training and assistance has positive impact on the organisation and functioning of public administrations
- Iur.Ap puts research and innovation findings developed in the higher education sector at the service of public and private organisations

The added value of a law SPIN OFF

Compared to other actors operating in the area of education and training for public and private organisations, a university spin off offers:

- Insight across a broad spectrum of issues, based on sound academic knowledge concentrated in the higher education sector
- the necessary expertise to reliably transfer scientific and technical knowledge to public administrations, public and private companies and operators in the non-profit sector
