INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMME IN HUMANITIES AT THE UNIVERSITY OF PISA

1 year in English +

2 years in Italian =

a Bachelor’s degree in Humanities

Academic year 2017/18
What is the International programme?

The International Programme in Humanities (IPH) is a one-year programme taught exclusively in English. It is also the first year of a three-year Bachelor’s degree programme in either History, Philosophy, Cultural Heritage Studies, or Sciences of Communication and Performing Arts.

During the IPH students will develop their knowledge in various subject areas by attending a range of classes, visiting historical sites in central Italy, discovering local culture and meeting other students and people from all over the world.

Students will experience a full immersion into Italian language and culture which will then prepare them to study years 2 and 3 exclusively in Italian.

Who can enrol in the IPH?

Our programme is open to all students, but it is specifically aimed at international students who are interested in studying for a Bachelor’s degree in the area of Humanities.

Those who wish to enrol must have a B1-European level in English. Students however do not need to know Italian as this will be taught during the first year of the programme.

What does the IPH consist of?

The programme consists of contact time with our professors (lectures and seminars), study time outside of lessons and various site visits over the course of two academic terms. Each term lasts 12 weeks. Students enrolled in the programme will obtain 30 ECTS credits per term.

Venue and Facilities

All classes are held at the Polo Guidotti Study Centre at the University of Pisa in modern and well-equipped rooms.

Access to quiet study areas, computer facilities and free wireless Internet is available to all students.

Students can also use the University dining halls and library services.
